

RELIGION IS CRAP

You know the stuff. All human power and tawdry imitations of glory. Bumbling priests, wielding mystery and weaving god-talk around fears and prejudice, claiming a holy franchise on who is served the bread and wine. The fossilised straight-laced types whose life is finger-pointing and pious squabbles on interminable committees and councils. Or maybe the Holy Rollers banging on your door with a crazed glint in their eye and offers of out-of-the-brain experience, dancing to an old-fashioned fiddle tune whilst Creation burns... And worst of all the deadly sincere, cold as ice, who dress up hatred and bigotry and call it righteousness.

It's enough to get a good God crucified....
